PETERSEN IS SPELLED PEDERSEN IN DENMARK. HE WAS A FARMER

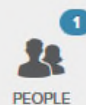

On the 15th of October 1841, in the province of Praesto, in the house of Gannebro near the town of Karise, Denmark Niels Petersen was born to Peder Nielsen and Kirsten Jensen.

His parents were honest, hard-working people, but very poor. At the age of seven, Niels was hired out to do chores on a dairy farm. He would stay on the farm through the week, sleeping in the loft of the milk house, usually working a 16 hour day. After the chores were finished on Sunday morning, Niels was permitted to walk home for the day. It was about five miles to his home. Upon arriving at home he would bathe, put on clean clothing and spent most of the day at home reading and then walk back to the farm.

Niels grew up with a religious inclination. When he was about fourteen years old, he had a dream in which a messenger came to him and told him that over in the western part of America was a people who had the true gospel.

In the mid 1860's Denmark and Germany went to war. Niels was called up to serve and served for fifteen months. When he was discharged he was given a small amount of money. All the money he had ever earned in the past was given to his family and he knew they would also take this if he went back home. He choose not to go home but to use the money for passage to American.

He landed in New York in the middle of March 1867 and he learned that a railroad was being build across the continent and he was able to get employment on the Union Pacific Railroad. Niels was present at Promontory, Utah when the Union Pacific Railroad from the east joined the Central Pacific Railroad coming from the west.
